

Making Music with Disabilities
Professor David Nabb, PhD

Dear registrants,

Thanks for registering and attending the NHIMA Virtual Event "Making Music with Disabilities" session with Prof. David Nabb.

Dr. Nabb agreed to have his PowerPoint presentation shared with the registrants to this course. Please, find the PowerPoint presentation attached at the bottom of this email.

During the session several websites were mentioned and also names of people, involved in making instruments for people with disabilities and/or people who play with disabilities. You can find that information here:

Ted Talk Dr. David Nabb:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j2v28JGfphQ>

OHMI: organization in the UK assisting people with physical disabilities to make music:
<https://www.ohmi.org.uk>

Dolmetsch - one handed recorders:

<https://www.dolmetsch.com/goldseriesrecorders.htm>

Paraorchestra: Paraorchestra is the world's only large-scale virtuoso ensemble of professional disabled and non-disabled musicians.

<https://paraorchestra.com>

One Handed Winds Program: University of Nebraska at Kearney

<https://www.unk.edu/academics/music/unk-one-handed-winds-program.php>

Felix Klieser: playing horn without arms

<https://felixklieser.de/en/bio-en>

Inga Petri: Cello player

You can look up a bit of info about her on-line. She plays cello without arms.

Maarten Visser: produces one handed flutes or flutes for people with disabilities:

<http://flutelab.com>

Hope this is helpful. This information will remain available in the NHIMA Member Area for future reference.